CLASS OF 1819.

ANDREW MILLER.

A native of Somerville, born in 1799, was admitted to the bar in 1822, and practiced in his native place for two or three years, when he removed to Flemington, where he followed his profession for some fifteen years. He then removed to Philadelphia, afterwards to North Carolina, etc., and finally, after considerable roving (which included Europe), returned a few years since to Somerville, where he now resides, but retired from practice.

One of the early lawyers of Flemington, was a native of Somerset Co., born in 1799, and admitted to the bar in 1822. After practicing a couple years at Somerville, he removed to the county-seat of Hunterdon County, taking the place of Joseph Bonnell, then recently deceased. For some fifteen years, Mr. Miller resided and practiced at Flemington, but about the year 1839 he removed to the city of Philadelphia. Residing at several different places during the intervening years he a few years since returned to his native place, Somerville, where he is now residing, at the age of 81 years, retired from practice.
